

JOHN EDMOND GRAVES DIES AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Had Been Commandant of Institution for Past Eight Years

NATIVE OF CHARLES CITY
Had Record of Distinguished Service in War Between the States—Was at One Time Superintendent of Schools in His County.

John Edmond Graves, a distinguished Confederate soldier and commandant of R. E. Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, died yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the home. Funeral services will take place from the grave in Hollywood Cemetery tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Graves, who was a native of Charles City County, was widely known in Virginia, and had a host of friends. As a Confederate soldier in the War between the States, he performed valiant service, and his old comrades in arms will receive the news of his death with genuine sorrow. For the past eight years he had been commandant of the Soldiers' Home.

Mr. Graves entered the Confederate service in the fall of the first year of the struggle as a sergeant in the State militia stationed at Jamestown Island. A few months later he was transferred to the Charles City Cavalry, then operating under General Magruder on the Peninsula. Still later he joined Company D of the Third Virginia Cavalry, Beckham's Brigade, and served with this command until the end came at Appomattox.

REAL ESTATE AND COURTS

Trading on the local real estate market yesterday was confined entirely to small property, with the sales for the day in city property aggregating less than $1,000. Small, Henry Co. lands were active, several fair-sized deals being made. Reports in realty circles are to the effect that at least three fair-sized deals are being completed.

Thomas & Cross sold the brick dwelling at 2329 Park Avenue yesterday to Lena L. Saelzer. The property fronts twenty-two feet three inches at the southeast corner of Park Avenue and Elm Street and sold for $5,500, the highest deal to develop yesterday.

The Building Department issued a permit yesterday to E. H. Boatwright, to build a two-story brick dwelling on the west side of Fourth Avenue, between Custer and Leonard Streets, that will cost $4,000.

UNCLE SAM'S FUNDS TO BE HANDLED BY RESERVE BANK

Local Institution Is Designated Government Depository to Take Care of Funds of the United States.

Governor George J. Slay, of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, was yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury McCoo that the local institution has been designated a depository for the public funds of the United States government. All balances in local national banks to the credit of the United States at the close of business on December 31, 1915, will be transferred to the Federal Reserve Bank, which will begin the handling of these funds on January 1, 1916.

The order will not affect post-office funds or the funds of the local United States courts, which will continue to be deposited in the banks now receiving them. Customs collections and other government funds, however, will, beginning with January 1, be diverted to the Federal Reserve Bank.

Authority for the new order is found in the Federal reserve act, which provides for the designation of the reserve banks as government depositories. As depository, the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank will exercise the same functions that are now performed by the national bank depositories, honoring all drafts upon the Treasury of the United States.

SENDS BILL FOR SERVICES IN WAR BETWEEN STATES

George W. Bray Asks Adjutant-General to Mail Check for Past Due Salary.

George W. Bray, of Capitol Heights, Md., says the Confederate States of America owes him for three months of patriotic service rendered during the War between the States. And he depends upon Adjutant-General Sale for his check. Perhaps he thinks Virginia is the executor of the estate of a defunct nation.

The service for which Bray has never been paid was rendered in the war prison at Fort Delaware. He was a member of Nelson's Battalion of light artillery, and was captured at Weymouth, March 2, 1865. From that time until June 7, his patriotic zeal was smothered in the Northern prison. He was released on taking the oath of allegiance.

General Sale received a letter yesterday from the aggrieved soldier asking that the bill be settled.
